

Angus Mitchell
Australian Transport Safety Bureau

Angus is the Chief Commissioner and CEO of the Australian Transport Safety Bureau, Australia's Statutory transport safety investigative agency.

Having graduated from the University of Sydney, Angus served for almost two decades in the Royal Australian Navy in sea-going and land operational roles spanning the globe.

Prior to joining the ATSB in September 2021 Angus headed up the NSW and Queensland maritime regulatory bodies after managing daily operations as Deputy Harbour Master for Sydney and Botany.